

Licensing Information

CORPORATE LICENCE

A Corporate Licence will provide unlimited access to the training programs for all employees 24/7 in perpetuity. The content may be used in various formats and applications best suited to your safety training programs and objectives via DVD, intranet, and/or secure protected internet. The content becomes available to use, in perpetuity, at a one-off fixed price. It also allows for your corporate branding.

A Licence Quote is provided based on the number of employees. Once a licence agreement is completed we will supply the following training materials:

- Electronic video files which can be customised with your corporate logo/safety message/branding. The licence precludes the content being used by any companies other than your company. To that effect all digital files must bear the company name and logo and a copyright warning in that regard.
- All relevant training support material.
- Copyright permission to replicate all the training material (video, PPT, assessment, etc.) on CD or host on your intranet for the all employees within your company. This also includes permission to produce additional language versions of the video and support material.
- Lifetime licensing- no annual renewals.

Benefits:

- Saves additional time and money involved in setting up group training sessions for large numbers of people, as one can train employees at minimal cost per person.
- Employees can download associated handouts.
- This provides company-training via individual computers in the same way shared work files are accessed.
- The advantage of an intranet licence is that it allows for self-based training which can be beneficial in working around constraints such as shift work.

Companies using licenced programs include:

Chevron, Coffey, Newcrest Mining, Origin Energy, Rio Tinto, Woodside Energy.
